- [(4) [Possible Joint Application in the Case of a Trans-border Geographical Area] (a) In case of a geographical area of origin consisting of a trans-border geographical area, the adjacent Contracting Parties may agree to act as a single Contracting Party of Origin by filing an application jointly, through a commonly designated Competent Authority.

ALTERNATIVE B

(3) [Maintenance Fee] The Assembly may establish a fee to be paid for the maintenance of each international registration, if and to the extent to which receipts from the sources indicated in Article 24(3)(i) and (iii) to (v) do not suffice to cover the expenses of the Special Union.

ALTERNATIVE C

No provision on maintenance fees.

(4) [Fee Reductions] Reduced fees shall be established by the Assembly in respect of certain international registrations of appellations of origin, and in respect of certain international registrations of geographical indications, in particular those in respect of which the Contracting Party of Origin is a developing country or a least-developed country.

(5) [Individual Fee]

ALTERNATIVE A

(a) Any Contracting Party may, in a declaration, notify the Director General that the protection resulting from international registration shall extend to it only if a fee is paid to cover its cost of substantive examination of the international registration. The amount of such individual fee shall be indicated in the declaration and can be changed in further declarations. The said amount may not be higher than the equivalent of the amount required under the national or regional legislation of the Contracting Party diminished by the savings resulting from the international procedure. Additionally, the Contracting Party may, in a declaration, notify the Director General that protection resulting from the international registration shall be subject to maintenance or renewal requirements and fee payments.

Article 8

Period of Validity of International Registrations

(b) In case the denomination constituting a registered appellation of origin, or the indication constituting a registered geographical indication, is no longer protected in the Contracting Party of Origin, the Competent Authority of the Contracting Party of Origin shall request cancellation of the international registration.

[(3) Effect of Non-Payment of a Maintenance Fee] Notwithstanding paragraph (1), an international registration shall be cancelled if the fee referred to in Article 7(3) is not paid.]

Chapter III Protection

Article 9

Commitment to Protect

Each Contracting Party shall protect registered appellations of origin and geographical indications on its territory, within its own legal system and practice but in accordance with the terms of this Act, subject to any refusal, renunciation, invalidation or cancellation that may become effective with respect to its territory, and on the understanding that Contracting Parties that do not distinguish in their national or regional legislation as between appellations of origin and geographical indications shall not be required to introduce such a distinction into their national or regional legislation.

Article 10

Protection Under Laws of Contracting Parties or Other Instruments

(1) Form of Legal Protection] Each Contracting Party shall be free to choose the type of legislation under which it establishes the protection stipulated in this Act, provided that such legislation meets the substantive requirements of this Act.

(2) Protection Under Other Instruments] The provisions of this Act shall not in any way affect any other protection a Contracting Party may accord in respect of registered appellations of origin or registered geographical indications under its national or regional legislation, or under other international instruments.

Article 11¹

Protection in Respect of Registered Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications

(1) Content of Protection] Subject to the provisions of this Act, each Contracting Party shall extend to a registered appellation of origin, or a registered geographical indication, protection against:

[¹ Draft Agreed Statement by the Diplomatic Conference: "As the International Bureau is only authorized to refuse applications that do not meet the formal requirements of the Lisbon Agreement or the 1967 Act, or the applicable Regulations under these instruments, applications concerning appellations of origin consisting of or containing a term occurring in an appellation of origin already registered under the Agreement have not been refused by the International Bureau, and will not be refused by the International Bureau under this Act either, as this would amount to a refusal on a substantive ground. It is for each Contracting Party to decide, on the basis of its own legal system and practice, whether such appellations of origin or geographical indications may coexist on its territory or that one of them shall prevail."]

- (a) any use of the appellation of origin or the geographical indication
- (i) in respect of goods of the same kind as those to which the appellation of origin, or the geographical indication, applies not originating in the geographical area of origin or not complying with any other applicable requirements for using the appellation of origin, or the geographical indication; or

ALTERNATIVE A

- (ii) which would amount to its misuse, imitation or evocation; or
- (iii) which would be detrimental to, or exploit unduly, its reputation,

ALTERNATIVE B

- (ii) in respect of goods that are not of the same kind as those to which the appellation of origin or geographical indication applies, if such use would indicate or suggest a connection between those goods and the beneficiaries, and is likely to damage the interests of the beneficiaries, even if the appellation of origin or the geographical indication is used with minor differences; if the true origin of the goods is indicated; or if the appellation of origin, or the geographical indication, is used in translated form or accompanied by terms such as “style”, “kind”, “type”, “make”, “imitation”, “method”, “as produced in”, “like”, “similar”, or the like²;

(b) any other practice liable to mislead the consumer as to the true origin, provenance or nature of the goods.

(2) [Use in a Trademark] Without prejudice to Article 13(1), a Contracting Party shall, ex officio if its legislation so permits or at the request of an interested party, refuse or invalidate the registration of a later trademark if use of the trademark would result in one of the situations covered by paragraph (1).

(3) [Declaration Concerning the Content of Protection]

ALTERNATIVE A

Any State or intergovernmental organization may declare, when depositing its instrument of ratification or accession, that it shall, instead of the protection stipulated in paragraph (1)(a)(iii), extend to the registered appellation of origin or the registered geographical indication protection against any use thereof in respect of goods that are not of the same kind as those to which the appellation of origin or geographical indication applies, if such use would indicate or suggest a connection between those goods and the beneficiaries, and is likely to damage the interests of the beneficiaries.

² Where certain elements of the denomination or indication constituting the appellation of origin or geographical indication have a generic character in the Contracting Party of Origin, their protection under this subparagraph shall not be required in the other Contracting Parties. For greater certainty, a refusal or invalidation of a trademark, or a finding of infringement, in the Contracting Parties under the terms of Article 11 cannot be based on the component that has a generic character.]

ALTERNATIVE B

Any State or intergovernmental organization may declare, when depositing its instrument of ratification or accession, that it shall, instead of the protection stipulated in paragraph (1)(a)(ii) and (iii), extend to the registered appellation of origin or the registered geographical indication protection against any use thereof in respect of goods that are not of the same kind as those to which the appellation of origin or geographical indication applies, if such use would indicate or suggest a connection between those goods and the beneficiaries, and is likely to damage the interests of the beneficiaries.

ALTERNATIVE C

Any State or intergovernmental organization may declare, when depositing its instrument of ratification or accession, that it shall, instead of the protection stipulated in paragraph (1)(a)(ii) and (iii), extend to the registered appellation of origin or the registered geographical indication protection against any use thereof in respect of goods that are not of the same kind as those to which the appellation of origin or geographical indication applies, if such use:

- (i) would indicate a connection between those goods and the beneficiaries of the appellation of origin or the geographical indication, and would be likely to damage their interests;
- (ii) would be likely to impair or dilute in an unfair manner the distinctive character of the appellation of origin or the geographical indication; or
- (iii) would take unfair advantage of the distinctive character of the appellation of origin or the geographical indication.

ALTERNATIVE D

Any State or intergovernmental organization may declare, when depositing its instrument of ratification or accession, that it shall, instead of the protection stipulated in paragraph (1)(a), extend to the registered appellation of origin or the registered geographical indication protection against any use thereof in respect of goods, if such use would indicate or suggest a connection between those goods and the beneficiaries, and is likely to damage the interests of the beneficiaries.

Article 12

Protection Against Becoming Generic

Subject to the provisions of this Act, registered appellations of origin and registered geographical indications cannot [be considered to have] become generic³ as long as [the denomination constituting] the appellation of origin, or [the indication constituting] the geographical indication, is protected in the Contracting Party of Origin [and national or regional law requirements in the Contracting Party concerned regarding use, maintenance and renewal are met].

³ Article 12 is without prejudice to the application of the provisions of this Act concerning prior use, as, prior to international registration, the denomination or indication constituting the appellation of origin or geographical indication may already, in whole or in part, be generic in a Contracting Party other than the Contracting Party of Origin, for example, because the denomination or indication, or part of it, is identical with a term customary in common language as the common name of a good or service in such Contracting Party, or is identical with the customary name of a grape variety in such Contracting Party.

Article 13
Safeguards in Respect of Other Rights

(1) [Prior Trademark Rights] Without prejudice to Articles 15 and 19, where a registered appellation of origin or a registered geographical indication conflicts with a prior trademark applied for or registered, or acquired through use, in good faith in a Contracting Party,

ALTERNATIVE A

the protection of that appellation of origin or geographical indication in that Contracting Party shall not prejudice the eligibility for, or the validity of, the registration of the trademark, or the right to use the trademark, taking into account the legitimate interests of the owner of the trademark as well as those of the beneficiaries of the rights in respect of the appellation of origin or the geographical indication and provided that the public is not misled.

ALTERNATIVE B

the protection of that appellation of origin or geographical indication in that Contracting Party shall be subject to the rights conferred by the prior trademark under national or regional law along with any applicable exceptions to those rights.

(2) [Personal Name Used in Business] The provisions of this Act shall not prejudice the right of any person to use, in the course of trade, that person's name or the name of that person's predecessor in business, except where such name is used in such a manner as to mislead the public.

(3) [Rights Based on a Plant Variety or Animal Breed Denomination] The provisions of this Act shall not prejudice the right of any person to use a plant variety or animal breed denomination in the course of trade, except where such plant variety or animal breed denomination is used in such a manner as to mislead the public.

Article 14
Enforcement Procedures and Remedies

Each Contracting Party shall make available effective legal remedies for the protection of registered appellations of origin and registered geographical indications and provide that legal proceedings for ensuring their protection may be brought by a public authority or by any interested party, whether a natural person or a legal entity and whether public or private, depending on its legal system and practice.

Chapter IV Refusal and Other Actions in Respect of International Registrations

Article 15 Refusal

(1) [Refusal of Effects of International Registration] (a) Within the time limit specified in the Regulations, the Competent Authority of a Contracting Party may notify the International Bureau of the refusal of the effects of an international registration in its territory. The notification of refusal may be filed by the Competent Authority ex officio, if its legislation so permits, or at the request of an interested party.

(b) The notification of refusal shall set out the grounds on which the refusal is based.

(2) [Protection Under Other Instruments] The notification of a refusal shall not be detrimental to any other protection that may be available, in accordance with Article 10(2), to the denomination or indication concerned in the Contracting Party to which the refusal relates.

(3) [Obligation to Provide Opportunity for Interested Parties] Each Contracting Party shall provide a reasonable opportunity, for anyone whose interests would be affected by an international registration, to request the Competent Authority to notify a refusal in respect of the international registration.

(4) [Registration, Publication and Communication of Refusals] The International Bureau shall record the refusal and the grounds for the refusal in the International Register. It shall publish the refusal and the grounds for the refusal and shall communicate the notification of refusal to the Competent Authority of the Contracting Party of Origin or, where the application has been filed directly in accordance with Article 5(3), the beneficiaries or the legal entity referred to in Article 5(2)(ii) as well as the Competent Authority of the Contracting Party of Origin.

(5) [National Treatment] Each Contracting Party shall make available to interested parties affected by a refusal the same judicial and administrative remedies that are available to its own nationals in respect of the refusal of protection for an appellation of origin or a geographical indication.

Article 16 Withdrawal of Refusal

(1) [Procedures for the Withdrawal of Refusals] A refusal may be withdrawn in accordance with the procedures specified in the Regulations. A withdrawal shall be recorded in the International Register.

[(2) [Negotiations] Where appropriate and without prejudice to Article 15(5), the Contracting Party of Origin may propose negotiations with a Contracting Party in respect of which a refusal has been recorded, in order to have the refusal withdrawn.]

Article 17
Prior Use

[(1) [Phasing Out of Prior Use] (a) Where a denomination constituting a registered appellation of origin, or an indication constituting a registered geographical indication, was, prior to the date of the international registration, in use in a Contracting Party by a third party and is not safeguarded under Article 13, that Contracting Party may, when it does not refuse the protection of the appellation of origin or geographical indication, grant to the third party a defined period, as specified in the Regulations, to terminate such use.

(b) Where a Contracting Party has refused the effects of an international registration under Article 15 on the ground of prior use as referred to in subparagraph (a), it may similarly grant to the third party a defined period to terminate such use in case it decides to withdraw the refusal under Article 16 or notify a grant of protection under Article 18.

(c) The Contracting Party shall notify the International Bureau of any such period, in accordance with the procedures specified in the Regulations.]

(2) [Coexistence] Where a Contracting Party that has refused the effects of an international registration under Article 15 on the ground of use under a prior trademark or other right, as referred to in Article 13, notifies the withdrawal of that refusal under Article 16 or a grant of protection under Article 18, the resulting protection of the appellation of origin or geographical indication shall not prejudice that right or its use, unless the protection was granted following the cancellation, non-renewal, revocation or invalidation of the right⁴.

Article 18
Notification of Grant of Protection

The Competent Authority of a Contracting Party may notify the International Bureau of the grant of protection to a registered appellation of origin or geographical indication. The International Bureau shall record any such notification in the International Register and publish it.

⁴ In view of the safeguards under Article 13 in respect of use under prior trademarks and certain other rights, Article 17 does not provide for possible phasing out periods in respect of such use, unless the prior trademark or other right contains a denomination or indication that conflicts with a registered appellation of origin or geographical indication and is disclaimed under the prior trademark or other right, or manifestly does not form part of the subject-matter protected by the prior trademark or other right.

Article 19
Invalidation

(1) [Grounds for Invalidation] The grounds on the basis of which a Contracting Party may pronounce invalidation, in part or in whole, of the effects of an international registration in its territory shall include:

ALTERNATIVE A

in particular, those based on a prior right, as referred to in Article 13.

ALTERNATIVE B

(i) a prior right, as referred to in Article 13, when the protection granted to the registered appellation of origin or geographical indication has been successfully challenged and the court decision is final; or

(ii) when compliance with the definition of an appellation of origin or geographical indication in the Contracting Party of Origin is not ensured anymore.

(2) [Opportunity to Defend Rights] An opportunity shall be given to the beneficiaries to defend their rights. Such opportunity shall also be given to the legal entity referred to in Article 5(2)(ii).

(3) [Notification, Recordal and Publication] The Contracting Party shall notify the invalidation of the effects of an international registration to the International Bureau, which shall record the invalidation in the International Register and publish it.

(4) [Protection Under Other Instruments] Invalidation shall not be detrimental to any other protection that may be available, in accordance with Article 10(2), to the denomination or indication concerned in the Contracting Party that invalidated the effects of the international registration.

Article 20
Modifications and Other Entries in the International Register

Procedures for the modification of international registrations and other entries in the International Register shall be specified in the Regulations.

Chapter V Administrative Provisions

The International Bureau shall communicate the said decisions to the members of the Assembly which are States, have the right to vote on the said matter and were not represented and shall invite them to express in
